MARDI
GRAS

Ex Libris

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY
NEW ORLEANS
LOUISIANA

MARDI GRAS had its inception in New Orleans in 1827 when a band of French students just returned from their studies in Paris gathered together in a Vieux Carré Café and made plans for a continuation of the great festival to which they had become accustomed while studying on the continent. » » » » » » » »

Paris had long held its annual Mardi Gras Carnival, as did other great Latin cities, including Venice and Rome — the custom being one of ancient origin. The celebration was a final round of pleasure and frolic before the advent of Ash Wednesday and Lent — the forty day period of sackcloth and ashes appointed by the Church immediately preceding the Resurrection of the Christ. It received the French name, Mardi Gras, which was the equivalent of Shrove Tuesday and meant "Fat Tuesday," so called because a fat ox was formerly paraded through the streets on this last day before the holy season of Lent. » » » »

And so while these young scapegraces sipped their wine and chattered volubly in the manner characteristic of the French, the foundation was laid for the most unique and beautiful celebration in America, the New Orleans Mardi Gras Carnival.

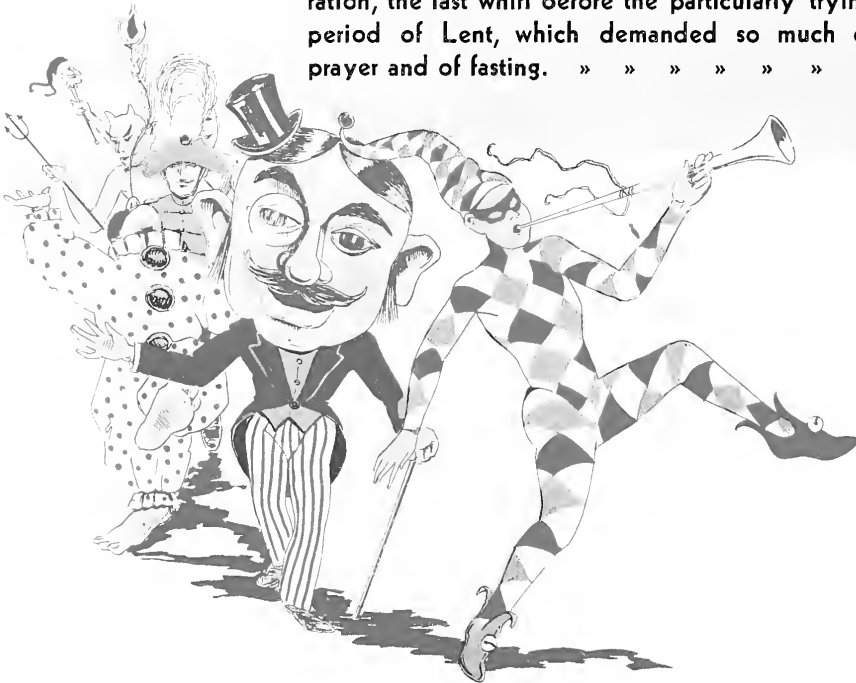

THE first Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans was the direct result of the plans of these young students. While it naturally suffers by comparison with the Carnival of today, it was filled with all the enthusiasm, the merriment, and general abandon which distinguishes the modern festival.

These students attired themselves in the grotesque and comic costumes which had been theirs on the boulevards of Paris, and paraded the narrow streets of Orleans, singing, shouting, and calling to their fellows to join in the fun while yet there was time, for on the morrow a sentiment of prayer and penance must come into their hearts. » » » »

The city was not slow in taking up the celebration where it had been begun by this handful of young scamps. The usual order each year, however, at most, consisted of a parade of maskers, with music, street-dancing, and merry-making. » » » »

Such a celebration seemed to be harmonious with the French disposition. It was the logical preparation, the last whirl before the particularly trying period of Lent, which demanded so much of prayer and of fasting. » » » » » » » »

THE magnificent Carnival balls have always featured Mardi Gras, and are truly remarkable works of art, resplendent in all the gold and finery and beautiful coloring that can be combined by the great artists into a single glorious picture. »

Skilfully planned tableaux usually commence these costly affairs, and the various Carnival organizations vie with one another for unique presentation of some historical or legendary theme. * »

The ball room is first given over to the king and queen and their court, following which the general invitees are allowed the privilege of the floor for the graceful and carefree dance set to the tune of perfect music. » » » » » » » »

Hours pass while the social folk of a Southern city which has lost nothing of its quaint and picturesque beauty—the heritage of French and Spanish dominions, forget care and woe, and allow only the pleasure and splendor of the dance to remain in their minds. » » » » » » » »

In the early hours of the morning the balls are ended and the tired but happy maskers retire to old French Market for a final cup of steaming coffee before peaceful slumber overwhelms them.

THE Carnival balls, however, are very exclusive affairs and few visitors have an opportunity of viewing their magnificence. Consequently, the impression usually received of the celebration is from the great street pageants held by day and by night.

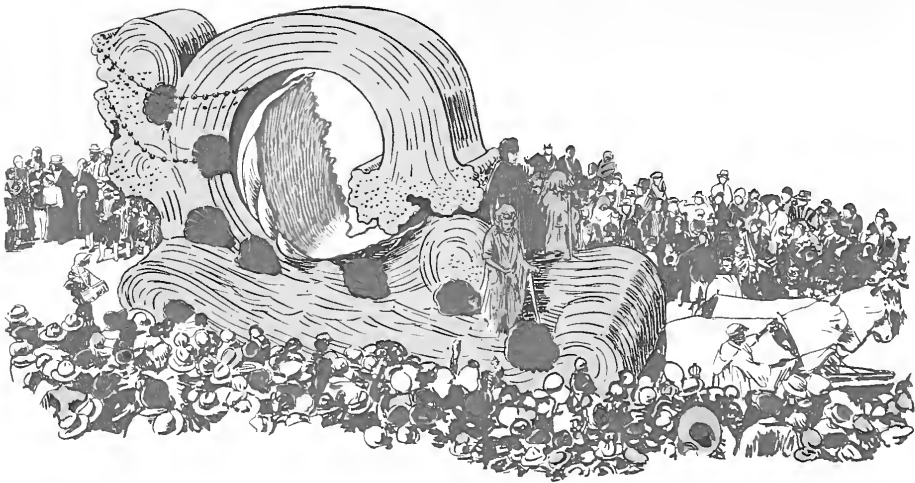

These pageants were commenced thirty years after the first celebration, and have been continued by five major Carnival groups. » » » » » »

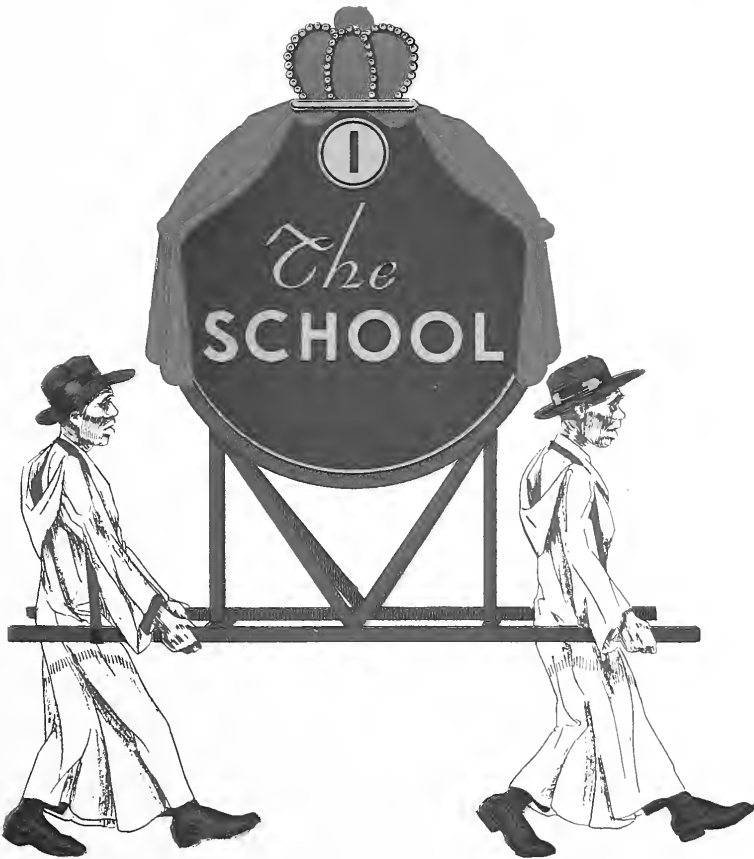

As in the tableaux which feature the balls, the street pageants are generally illustrative of some beautiful historical or legendary theme. » » »

Enormous floats, mounted upon heavy wheels, drawn by teams of mules, are paraded through the streets. These floats are the result of months of careful planning and designing, and are remarkable examples of modern art and painting. » »

Thousands of happy spectators line the streets for miles to view the parades. Many of these persons are gaily attired in varicolored costumes, each adding to the glamour, each contributing a share of happiness to cause one continuous hubbub and excitement while an entire city and its fifty thousand visitors go mad with pleasure. » » » »

DEDICATION

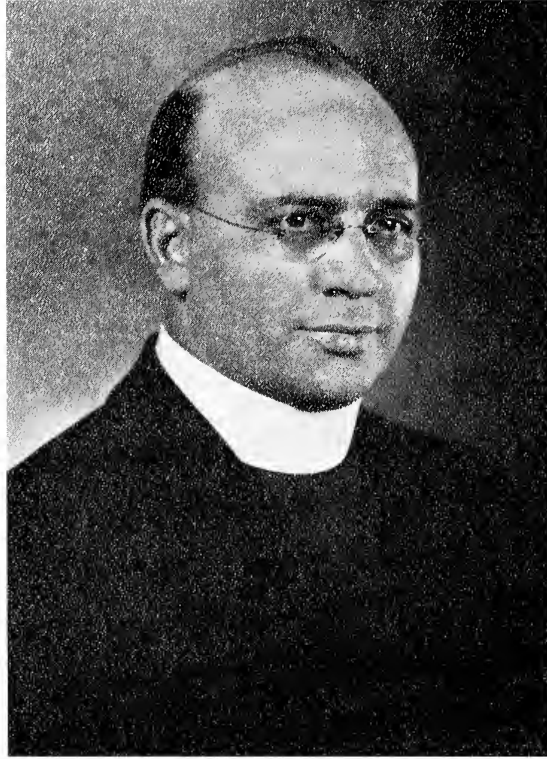

*Consecrated service is the ideal that Loyola holds before the eyes of all her students.
To one who gave twenty-five years of his life unreservedly to this high ideal and died in the fulfillment of this duty we dedicate this number of

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

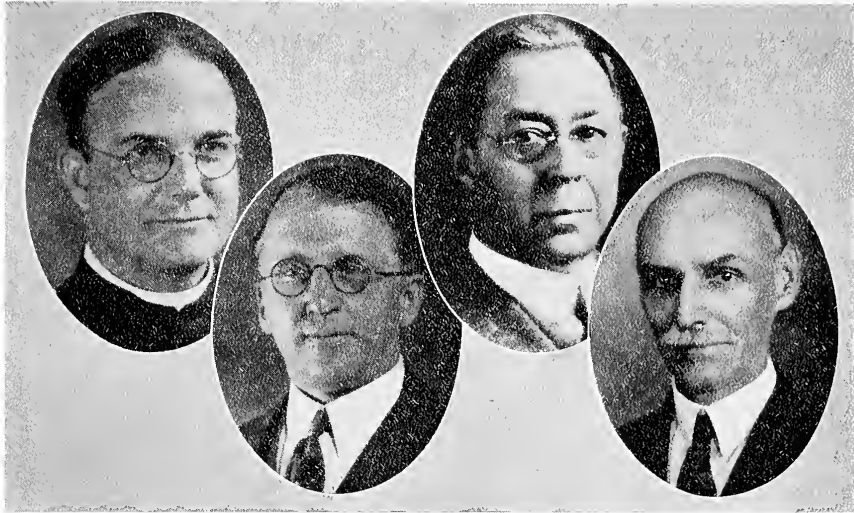

"Non scholae discimus, sed vitae," is a wise proverb and valuable slogan. College life is not a period of recreation and amusement, but a serious preparation for real living.

The training of college should produce, not mere men of general culture, good habits, excellent health, but leaders of men. In college a man is trained to know himself, to sound his own potentialities. He must analyze his mind and heart, and be the architect of his own character. He must frankly face his weaknesses so as bravely to correct them; he must be confident of his abilities so as to make them instruments of achievement. He should understand his own heart and the power of his emotions in order to bring them into perfect harmony with reason and the ideals of a Christian gentleman.

In a word, the college student should unfold and develop in a healthy environment into a perfect type of man—a leader who will guide his fellowmen loyally, faithfully, safely to peace and happiness and prosperity in this life, and to an eternity with God beyond.

This is our ideal of education, and we hope and pray that Loyola's mark upon the student will be proof of Christian leadership.

Down Where The South Begins

*Down where the sun shines a little brighter,
Down where the heart beats a little lighter,
Where friendship's bonds are a little tighter—
That's where the South begins.*

*Down where the banjo strings are strumming,
Down where the honey bee is humming,
Where a hearty welcome awaits your coming—
That's where the South begins.*

Our Creed

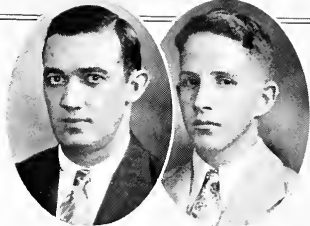

*So, take and use thy work,
Amend what flaws may lurk,
What strain o' the stuff, what warpings past the aim!
May times be in thy hand!
Perfect the cup as planned!
Let age approve of youth, and death complete the same!*

FEATURES

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

ADIO Station W W L is the successor of the old wireless code station which began operation under Rev. A. Kunkel, in the days when Radio was in its infancy—around 1911.

The first musical program was broadcast over station W W L on March 31st, 1922, so that this station rightly claims to be the Pioneer radio broadcasting station in the lower Mississippi valley. W W L was then a ten-watt station. In November, 1924, the station power was increased to 100 watts.

In 1927 steps were taken to increase the power to 500 watts. Then, in 1928, taking advantage of the general reallocation of wave lengths and redistribution of power, Loyola University asked and obtained a construction permit to erect a modern 5,000 watt transmitter. Crystal control was then placed in operation in 1930.

W W L now stands out from other New Orleans stations in power and consistent long distance range. Its power is exactly five times greater than the next strongest station. It has a cleared channel of 850 kilocycles, which allots it a place on the dial where its range is most effective. Its effectiveness was demonstrated recently by a brief, half-hour program held as a test. The announcer stated that a five-pound box of candy would be given to the farthest listener. To this announcement two thousand and forty-seven replies were received from forty different States of the Union; forty-two letters from the Dominion of Canada, one from Mexico and one from Spanish Honduras. This program had been put on without any advance notice. On other broadcasts letters have been received from British Colombia, vessels on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and even from far away Australia.

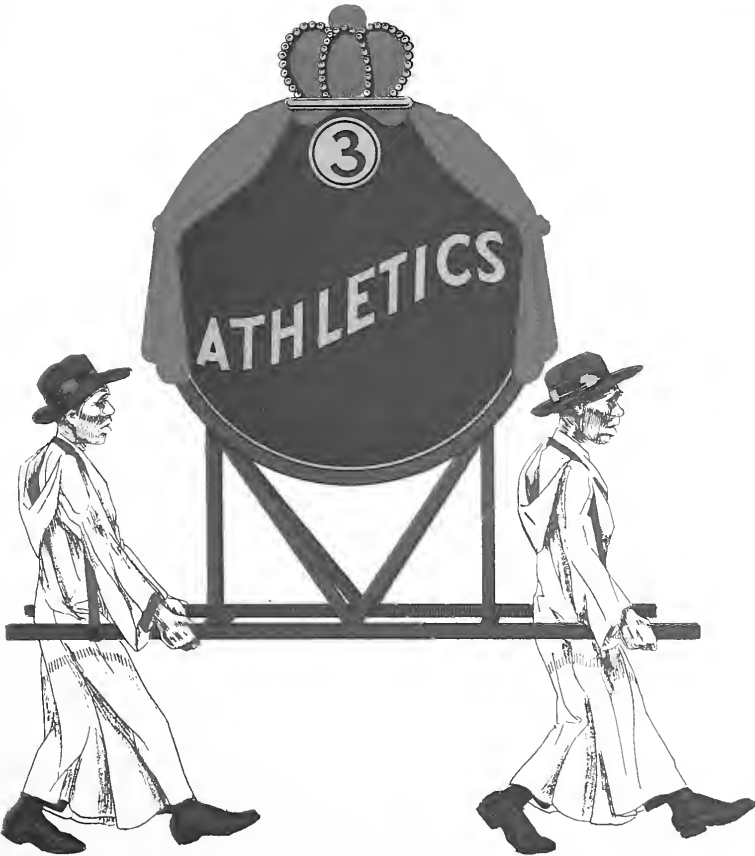

Service to the public is the keynote upon which the W W L programs are built. Educational features of great interest presented by authorities on the subjects comprise a goodly portion of the schedule. Musical programs are of the highest type obtainable, with a goodly share that are of popular appeal. Famous musicians of international fame have broadcast from this station, as have the hottest of hot dance orchestras.

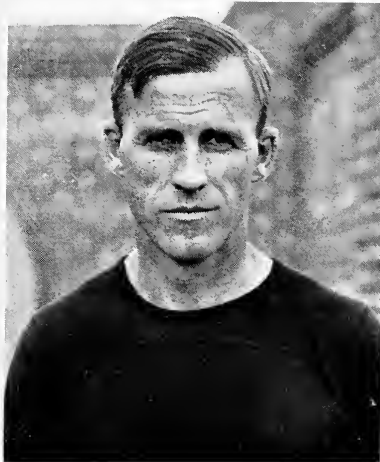

Besides the two spacious studios in Bobet Hall and Monteleone Hotel, remote control lines are maintained to the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus, Loyola Stadium, the Restaurant de la Louisiane, Loew's State Theatre, The New Slipper Night Club, and Kress Store.

Due credit for the success of the station must be given to Rev. F. D. Sullivan, S.J., President of Loyola University, and the authorities of the University for their forethought in undertaking so enormous a project; the Alumni Association; to Rev. O. L. Abell, S.J., director and engineer in charge, and his assistant Mr. Ray N. Toups, who guide the destinies of the station; and to Jean Pasquet, announcer and business manager.

Station W W L contemplates, in the near future, a new 10,000-watt transmitter located fifteen miles from the center of the city. Great things are expected.

CLARK D. SHAUGHNESSY

Head Football Coach

Last year we called Shaughnessy the greatest offensive coach in the South; this year we prefer to call him "the miracle man of Southern football," after the manner in which his 1930 edition of the Loyola Wolfpack handled themselves on the gridiron field of battle during the last season in winning nine games and losing only one.

We feel that we have best expressed our appreciation for the greatness of Mr. Shaughnessy's work in our editorial which appeared in the Maroon under the title, "Magnificent! Mr. Shaughnessy." It follows:

"The work you have done this year, Mr. Shaughnessy, is nothing short of miraculous, and at least half the credit for the remarkable success of the 1930 Loyola football eleven goes to you. The other half we will assign to those men who went out on the field of battle, and fought as hard as any sons a' guns you or we ever saw.

"The material you had at the beginning of the season looked to be the worst you ever faced in your career as a football coach. Perhaps you were fortunate in this respect. You didn't have a prima dona on the whole squad, not a man who was impressed with his own ability to play the grand and glorious game known as football. But you did have, and you recognized it to be such, the most courageous group of cleat wearers in the country. While courage alone won't win football games, it will go a mighty long way.

"Combine the fight that these men had, with the coaching that only Coach Shaughnessy can give football players, and you have the 1930 Pack which lost only one in ten games, and won six intersectional games.

"Those men loved you a lot to fight as hard for your reputation as they did. But they came through and you came through, delivering the best that was in you, which is the very best, and so the work of this season's football has been well done—MAGNIFICENTLY! Mr. Shaughnessy."

TAD GORMLEY

Trainer; Boxing and Track Coach

Tad came to Loyola three years ago with the reputation of being one of the best trainers and track coaches in Southern colleges. How well deserved that praise is can be attested to by the splendid condition of all Loyola teams, and by the unique success of the tracksters. Tad has made many friends at Loyola, and the Old Irishman has become so deeply implanted in the hearts of Loyola athletes that he bids fair to becoming an institution here.

Secoñ' Guessin'

By BOB AINSWORTH

Loyola's 1930 football team was the most successful in the history of football at the university, and by far the best team ever to wear the Maroon and Gold emblematic of the Loyola Wolf Pack. We say this in the face of the magnificent team of '26 with its "Bucky" Moore, A. D. Smith, "Red" Gremillon, et al., and even though the '26 team went through the season undefeated, and the '30 edition of Wolf lost a game. The 1930 team did not have the standout heroes which have characterized Wolf teams of the past, but it was a team which worked as a unit and did everything well.

When practice was called by Coach Shaughnessy on September 1, and everybody had a chance to see his men work out, there was a shaking of heads all along the Loyola front, and weeping and gnashing of teeth. No one could see a successful season ahead, not even Shaughnessy, who predicted that the Pack would possibly "win every other game." But people discounted the fact that the men out on the Loyola gridiron were fighters, and game clear through. They failed to take into account the fact that the Pack had set in their minds and hearts the desire to win, and were determined to accomplish their purpose.

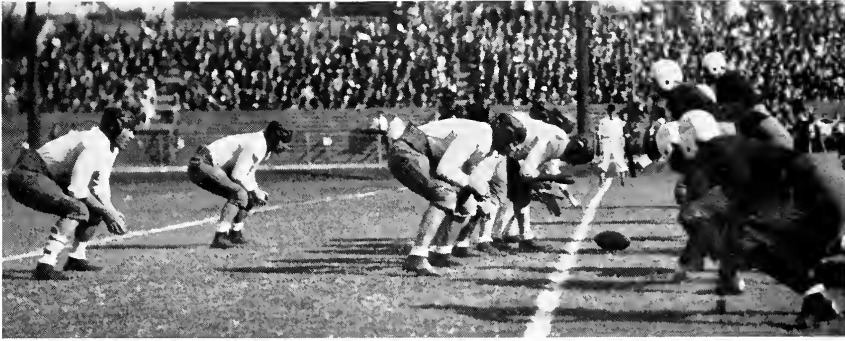

And so they fought; and how they fought for the glory and honor of the name of which they were so proud, LOYOLA. Nine games ended in victory for the Pack, six of these being major intersectional battles; only one game was lost, the "big mistake," Oglethorpe.

It is evident to even the most casual observer that the season was successful when there is seen among the list of the fallen such teams as Loyola of Chicago, St. Xavier of Cincinnati, Butler of Indianapolis, St. Louis University, Iowa State College, and Detroit University.

Of these teams, Loyola of Chicago, Butler, and Detroit, had all beaten Loyola decisively last year. What sweet revenge!

To say that Loyola is proud of her gridiron warriors is entirely superfluous. The Pack has acquitted itself in a manner worthy only of Loyola men.

The Players

"MICKEY" MOORE

"The outstanding man on the team," said Coach Shaughnessy, of the 131-pound quarterback, and captain of the Pack. Here was the brains of the team, wrapped up in the lightest member of the entire squad. "Mickey's" uncanny selection of plays and strategy, his beautiful ball-carrying, and cool football temperament made him an ideal quarterback to execute the complicated offensive known as Shaughnessy football. The wonder is that this mite of a football player could withstand such a hard campaign as was assigned to his team. As a matter of fact, the little fellow wasn't left on the ground after the referee's whistle, even once. Which is more than can be said of some of the huskiest on the team. "Mickey" will be back again next year to lead the Pack through another strenuous season.

CLEM H. SEHRT

The Law's contribution to football, or is it football's contribution to the Law? Clem is the strongest man on the Loyola forward wall, the veritable rock by which no ball-carrier can pass. He is one of the most vicious tacklers, and hardest blocking forwards ever to wear cleats under the banner of Loyola. Too bad it is that so few of Clem's type are left on our modern football fields. Here's a man who takes his football seriously and plays to win, because by winning he is advancing the name and the reputation of a school he loves.

JOE TETLOW

"The Loyola Express" was again the Pack's chief ground gainer and most constant offensive menace. He was a marked man all season, which of course made ball-carrying almost suicidal, but which fact did not prevent his being the most spectacular of Wolf backs.

LOU PESKIN

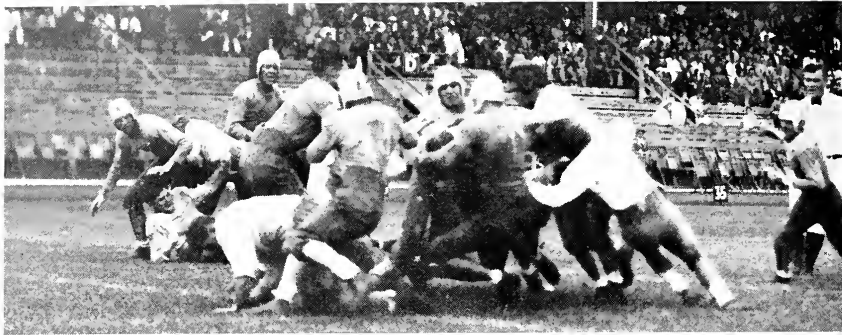

Shaughnessy used this man in almost every position on the team before he finally settled him as regular defensive end, and alternating offensive fullback. Lou had his best season. He was the big drive which usually led off the offense, and paved the way for the smaller backs.

MARVIN CHACERE

Chacere is the other big tackle who made life miserable for enemy backs. He is one of the fastest chargers on the team, and a brutal tackler. Marvin still has another year in which to star as a lineman on the Wolf team.

SAM ZELDEN

"Monk" was the sensational Sophomore back of the '30 Pack, and as hard a line plunger as Loyola has ever had. Here is a boy who really puts out because he wants to win. "Monk" has played the game so hard that he has suffered many injuries, which have prevented his playing in several games. He has been a star ball-carrier in every game in which he participated. Greater things are expected of him next year.

BOB SMITH

What could the Pack have done without the aid of this man's toe? Bob was the perfect punter. He could boot 'em high, wide, and handsome, and at the same time handle a mighty fine end position with the best of them. Besides being a pretty nice football player, Bob lays claim to being one of the handsomest men on the squad.

BILL FLYNN

Bill also had a fine season at center. The big Irishman didn't sling a bad pass all year, and very few first downs were made through his territory. Flynn is a fighter, and his fighting disposition helps keep up the morale of the middle of the wall where the going is heaviest.

ANDREW GIORDANO

"Big Dag" stayed out of school last year, and one would naturally think he had forgotten some of his football in that time. But he came back this season, and before many scrimmages had passed was placed in a first-string guard position. Many precious yards of gain have been lost by enemy teams in sending their backs over the big boy.

"ARNIE" LOPEZ

Arnie was another standout Soph performer, and made the regular fullback position. He is the best blocker Shaughnessy has, and a line-plunger of no mean ability. A sportsman both on and off the field, Lopez is a credit to the Pack.

FRED HEIER

The other half of the famous "touchdown twins" has earned his reputation by steady ball carrying. He shakes off tacklers like a duck sheds water, running with an awkward, elusive movement of the hips, which dares you to try and bring him down.

BILL BROWN

This kid packs more real fight for his weight than any lineman on the team. He plays center at 155 pounds, and plays it well. Bill is fast on his feet and a deadly tackler. It will be difficult to keep him out of a regular line position next year.

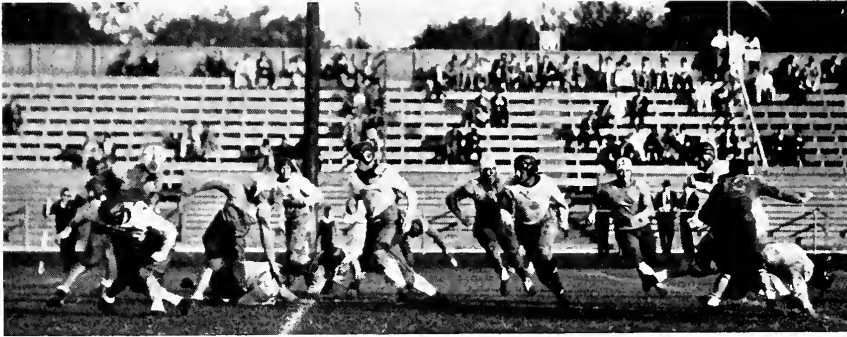

LEL SMITH

Lel is the fourth of the Smith brothers to make good on a Loyola team. He is a big, hefty guard, and though only a sophomore, held the guard position down for quite some few minutes.

IKE FAVALORA

Plenty of good, tough experience landed Ike in a regular line position at guard this year. He plays a quiet, steady game, not spectacular, but sufficiently strong to keep opposition ball toters out of his way, which is some strong.

CLARENCE SMITH

"Smitty" is the newest sensation on the team. He played plenty of ball during the year and gained much valuable experience, but it was not until the Detroit game that he showed his greatness in skirting the Detroit ends, and running the secondary crazy. He scored the only touchdown against the Titans, and was picked by them on their All-Opponent team.

JOE BLASI

The boy with the ideal football temperament was used by Shaughnessy wherever and whenever re-enforcements were needed. Joe played a good game at back, and could be used at end when the going was tough and relief was needed.

JOE WHEELER

The "Biloxi Terror" was one of Shaughnessy's finest re-enforcements and was used at both center and tackle. The big boy is rangy and powerful, and the experience gained this season should qualify him for Sehrt's position at tackle.

NOLAN RICHARDS

Using the psychology for which he is noted, Shaughnessy brought Richards off the bench this year and made him a really feared ball carrier. He can punt and pass with the best, and call a mean lot of signals in an emergency.

TOM CEFALU

The big husky from Independence held down a guard position on Shaughnessy's reserves and filled up any holes that might be opened by strong enemy offensives. He could always be relied on to go in and stem the tide, when the opposition threatened.

SAM LOVE

Only the fact that Smith and Peskin were perfect ends kept this lanky guy from Florida on the bench. But now that Peskin is gone, Sam is going to make it tough for prospective ends of next year. He gained a world of experience as a relief man this season.

ELDON MAJOUÉ

Eldon was a substitute quarter. He lacks weight to be a world-beating ball-carrier, but he has the brains necessary for good quarters, and will play plenty of ball next year.

Besides these, Shaughnessy had Morris Juge, a fine defensive man; Chester Schmittz, who played end as a reserve; Al Fitzwilliam, a cracking good center; Joe Zaffater, a fine guard; Ray Mock, who was hampered by injuries but played end; Bob Morris, who was also hand-capped by injuries; Emmett Benit, who has a nice future as a ball-carrier; Bill Gruber, a strong lineman; Henry Oulliber, a fast but light end; and Henry Knobloch, a nice pass receiver.

REVIEW OF 1930 SEASON

LOYOLA OPENS WITH 31-7 VICTORY OVER LOUISIANA NORMAL

Tetlow and Heier Offensive Stars

The newest edition of the Loyola Wolfpack swung into action in the first game of the season, and though it played ragged ball at times, came through with an impressive 31-7 victory over Louisiana Normal from Natchitoches.

Normal started by rushing the Wolves off their feet. After only a few minutes had been played, Cornish, Normal quarterback, cracked the bewildered Loyola line for a touchdown. He had worked the ball down by a series of long passes.

This touchdown was sufficient to work the Pack into a fighting fury, and the Loyola touchdown machine began to function with the precision which characterized its play throughout the season. Tetlow, the "Loyola Express" broke through, after the ball had been carried to the Normal 15-yard line, and let loose for home and a touchdown. By way of making the first half successful, he broke through again soon afterward, and scored after a 65-yard jaunt.

From then on, it was merely a question of how many points Coach Shaughnessy wanted to score.

"Bum" Heier celebrated the opening of the season with a brilliant 11-yard run through the Normal eleven in the fourth quarter, after Richards and Tetlow had worked the ball down.

Much may be expected of the 1930 Wolfpack as a result of their showing in this game. The line charged too quickly, and was frequently offside, the backs often failed to follow their interference, but before many more weeks have passed these early season weaknesses will have been erased.

PACK BEATS LOUISIANA TECH 26-0 IN THRILLING BATTLE

Polytech Shows Hard-Fighting Team

Loyola looked like All-Americans in the first half of their game with Louisiana Polytech, displaying a perfectly polished offense which scored at will. But the Tech boys came back in the second half to hold them on equal terms for most of the third and fourth quarters, only to yield in the closing minutes of the game for another touchdown.

Twenty points were scored by the Pack in that momentous first half, which provided the fans with thrills aplenty, and brought back memories of "Bucky" Moore and his mates of '27 fame. Joe Tetlow broke through for one run of 75 yards and a touchdown, and for two others of 45 and 15 yards, which netted another score.

The Wolves came back from their rest between halves and loafed through the rest of the game. Their ball carriers seemed to lack incentive, and the line was ragged, charging offside exactly fourteen times.

The Wolf forwards were put to a real test in the third period, and showed remarkable defensive power under pressure. Tech took the ball to the Loyola 2-yard line, where it was first down, with four tries for only two yards. Three times Tech hit the line, aggregating a total of two yards minus two inches. The Loyola line couldn't be dented. Tech tried once again, and were held for no gain, the ball going over and Smith kicking out of danger amid a tumultuous roar of applause from the cash and complimentary customers.

DANIEL BAKER GOES DOWN UNDER CRUSHING 39-0 SCORE

Wolves Look Great in Victory

The Daniel Baker game was little less than a scrimmage for the Wolfpack, but it brought out a salient fact—the 1930 Loyola team will go places and do things with other people's football teams. Coach Shaughnessy ran in every man on the bench against the team from Texas, and even his worst subs were in there scoring.

Enemy scouts swarmed in the press box, and so Tetlow and Heier, the touchdown aces, were kept out of the game.

In all, Loyola scored six touchdowns and registered twenty-six first downs, to no touchdowns and only four first downs by Daniel Baker.

It was a different Pack from that which faced Polytech in the second half of the last game. The front wall lined up perfectly, charged fast and usually got their men. The backs had their shift performing like a charm. The boys look to be in fine shape for the Loyola of Chicago game next week.

SOUTH SMASHES NORTH 25-0 IN BATTLE OF LOYOLAS

Wolves Show Best Loyola Team in History

While 10,000 surprised and bewildered spectators looked on, the finest team Loyola of the South has ever had stepped out and handed their northern brothers from Chicago the worst beating they have experienced in years, winning 25 to 0.

Three games had already been played by Loyola of the South this season, but the Wolfpack was still regarded as an unknown quantity. Against Chicago, however, the boys seemed inspired. Plays were perfectly timed, and the line charged as if life depended upon every play. The South showed a battering, unceasing offense, which scored in every quarter and totaled 15 first downs against 3 by Chicago.

The game had scarcely gotten under way when "Monk" Zelden, brilliant Sophomore back for the South, broke through the Chicago line and cut and side-stepped through the entire Northern team for a magnificent 46-yard run and a touchdown. This spectacular play took almost all the courage out of the Chicago squad, and though the battle waged fiercely from then on, the Wolves clearly had the upper hand.

In the second period, Tetlow broke through for 38 yards to the Chicago 5-yard stripe. Zelden hit hard for 4, and Lopez took it over, while the crowd looked on amazed at the power of this new Loyola of the South eleven.

Zelden took it over again in the third quarter, from the 2-yard line, and Lopez completed the night's work by going over in the last part of the game from the 4-yard line.

The South had gotten sweet revenge over the same team, composed of the same players, which handed it such a brutal beating last year.

OGLETHORPE UPSETS DOPE BEATING LOYOLA 19-0

Pack Plays Petrels Off Feet in Second Half

The Oglethorpe Petrels upset the dope by a magnificent three-touchdown margin over the Wolves in their annual game played at Loyola Stadium. The boys from Georgia completely dominated the play in the first half and scored whenever opportunity presented itself.

This game may well be called the "big mistake" of the season for Loyola. After the form displayed in the last game with Loyola of Chicago, the Pack looked like world beaters. But they let up to the Petrels, and with such backs as "Dapper" Meyers and Anderson running through them, and a tackle like Kensie to harass them, they could never overtake the hard-driving Georgians.

In the first half Meyers and Anderson of Oglethorpe scored three touchdowns between them, and chalked up 14 first downs. They gained through the Loyola line almost at will.

But the Pack came back in the second half and allowed only one first down through their forward wall, while they registered 7 through Oglethorpe, lacking, however, sufficient punch to carry the ball over the line that counts, the zero line.

The Oglethorpe game was just "one of those things" that defy understanding. The Georgians played some wonderful ball, and no credit should be taken from them, but the Pack was hopelessly off form, and could never get going sufficiently strong to score.

LOYOLA SCORES IMPRESSIVE 27-6 VICTORY OVER ST. XAVIER

Game Is Played on Road at Cincinnati

After being held scoreless for the first half, Loyola came back in the second half against St. Xavier of Cincinnati, and behind the flying heels of Joe Tetlow and McGhee Moore, overwhelmed the enemy under an avalanche of touchdowns, score 27-6.

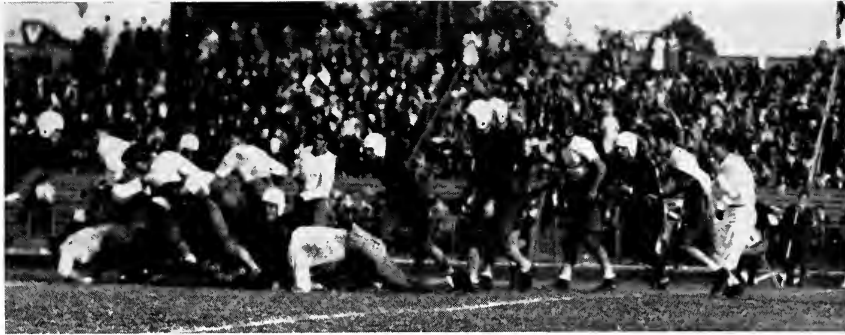

The Pack had lost two splendid opportunities to score in the first half. Moore had gotten the ball down to the 4-yard line after a long 36-yard run, but two successive fumbles annulled his efforts. Then, Chacere had dropped a long pass from Zelden on the 3-yard line.

Immediately after the kickoff, renewing hostilities, Loyola began a 60-yard march, which ended with Moore carrying the ball over for the first score of the game.

By this time the Pack had touchdown fever. Tetlow took a Xavier kick, and twisted through the whole team for 78 yards and another touchdown. A pass, Lopez to Moore, for 14 yards, netted another score. And when Moore went over from the 5-yard line, after intercepting a Xavier pass, the work of winning the game had been finished.

The Wolves made it clear by their victory against St. Xavier that the Oglethorpe defeat was just "a big mistake." Even better ball may be expected from now on.

LOYOLA DECISIVELY OVERWHELMS BUTLER BULLDOGS 33-0

Avenge Last Year's Crushing Defeat

The Pack obtained sweet revenge over a much heavier Butler team from Indianapolis when they ran the big Northern boys wild, to score at will, and amass a total of 451 yards from scrimmage.

Never has a Loyola team shown more power. They rushed and charged the Bulldogs out of the way, as if the opposition were mere dummies. They ran the ends, hit the line, and did everything a coach loves to see his football team do, and did it well.

"Bum" Heier, who had been relieved of his quarterbacking duties, came into his own and scored three touchdowns, while Butler watched Tetlow. Heier got loose for touchdown runs of 20, 21, and 37 yards. The Butler men stood up and looked at him while he twisted and turned through the whole squad with nary a hand laid upon him.

"Curly" Hinchman, the big fullback, who played havoc with the Loyola line last year in Indianapolis, was held scoreless, and seldom got past the line of scrimmage.

It was the third intersectional victory of the year for Loyola, Loyola of Chicago and St. Xavier already having fallen by the wayside.

WOLFPACK BEATS ST. LOUIS BILLIKENS 14-7 IN THRILLER

Game Is Played on Muddy, Sticky Field

The Pack won its fourth intersectional game of the season after a real tussle with their Jesuit brothers at St. Louis University, score 14-7. In winning, the Wolves had to outdrive and outfight a team that was ever coming in for more, and never quit trying to win until the final whistle.

Never was there such determined opposition. St. Louis had a line which wouldn't give in, and which knew the art of using its hands in a football game.

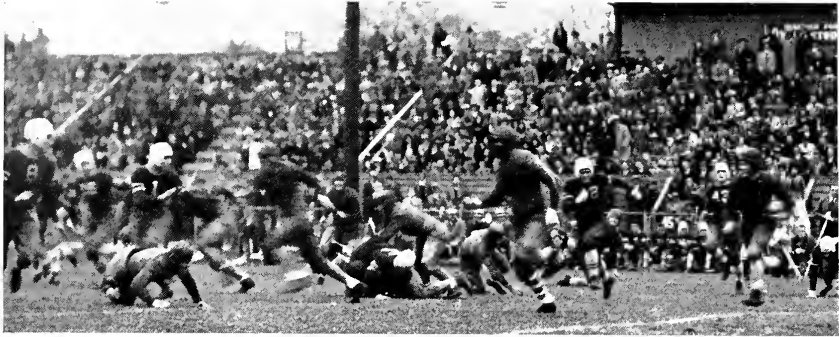

The big, pile-driving Arnie Lopez was the only Wolf back who consistently dented the St. Louis forward wall. The Wolf line was opening huge gaps for the big fullback, who ploughed through everybody, taking the entire secondary with him at times, riding on his shoulders.

The first quarter was as fast and furious as any fifteen minutes of football ever played. Both teams started at it with hammer and tongs, and how they fought! Neither team could break through for any appreciable yardage, and this period was strictly a punting duel.

By this time the Pack had overcome its nervousness and settled down to the business of touchdowns. Taking the ball deep in their own territory, the Pack worked the ball down and Lopez crashed the middle for a touchdown. Smith kicked goal.

In the third period, Loyola got as far as the 12-yard line, when the quarter ended. In four tries Lopez had taken the ball over for another touchdown. Smith again kicked goal.

Here St. Louis shot the works. The quarterback was ordered to pass, and he threw a few long ones which carried the ball to the Loyola 5-yard line, from whence it was taken over after a broad end run.

IOWA STATE IS BEATEN BY BLOCKED KICK, SCORE 14-7

Smith Blocks Kick at Critical Moment

Loyola resorted to the overland route for the first time this season, blocked a kick, and thus whipped their strongest opposition of the season, the "hard-luck" Iowa State eleven, in a dramatic struggle which thrilled a large crowd of spectators through sixty minutes of fast and furious playing; the score, 14-7.

Iowa State brought down the heaviest team the Pack has faced this season. The boys from the mid-West had plenty of power, and a deceptive offense. Loyola matched the power of the Iowans with a fighting line which held the big machine for three downs on the Wolf one yard line, only to allow them to score on last down, when the secondary was caught flat-footed on a long end run.

Iowa State scored in the first few minutes on a sustained drive from deep in their own territory to the Loyola 1-yard line. Bowes took it around end after three successive tries at the line had failed. A place kick was good for the extra point.

Four minutes later the score had been tied, when Moore went over after taking a long pass from Tetlow, and running 36 yards. Smith kicked the goal.

The score remained knotted until late in the third period, when the Loyola line charged in fast on Wilcox, who had dropped back for a kick, and Bob Smith blocked the punt, recovering on the 1-yard line. Moore sneaked over for the score, and the Pack was never headed.

PACK DEFEATS DETROIT IN SEASON'S FINALE, 9-6

Young Clarence Smith Stars Against Titans

Whatever doubt anyone could have had about the greatness of the 1930 Wolfpack was completely shattered by the spectacular beating the Wolves handed the mighty Titans from Detroit in the closing game of the season.

Doped to lose by two touchdowns against the well-known Detroiters, the Pack played inspired football throughout, and got the jump from the start, never to relinquish it, although the Titans made last minute efforts to overhaul their Southern brothers.

Coach Dorais of Detroit started his shock troops, but a fast-charging and fierce, nay vicious, tackling Loyola team soon convinced him that his first-stringers were badly needed. That the Pack was pushing the ball along is evident from their total of 269 yards from scrimmage to 113 by Detroit, and their 15 first downs to 7 by the Titans.

After line plays had brought the ball to mid-field, a pass was called by the Pack, and "Monk" Zelden dropped back and tossed the leather to Smith who was hiding away somewhere down the field. Smith took it on to the 16-yard line before he was run out of bounds. The heavy backs worked the ball to the 10-yard line, and the ball was given to Smith, who started home through the Detroit secondary to score. Smith kicked goal.

In the last quarter Detroit took the ball from her own 17-yard line, and smashed and hammered it all the way down the field to score on a long end run from the 8-yard line. A try for extra point failed.

Two points were added in the last minute of play when Cogan of Detroit, standing behind his own goal line, attempted to pass, and stepped out into the end zone, for a touchback.

Frosh Football, 1930

The Frosh team got off to quite an inauspicious start by taking a 37-7 lamming from the Mississippians from Copiah-Lincoln. But from then on the Wolf Pups settled down to the business of imitating their bigger brothers of the varsity, and began to acquire the winning habit. How well they acquired this habit may be seen from the record below which shows that of the remaining four games, the Pups took 'em all—quite a creditable performance for first year men.

Coach Junior Lopez, famous quarterback on past Wolf elevens, began his first active year as a coach with the yearlings. At the beginning of the season he did not have a wealth of material, nor very many standout players. But gradually a good first team drifted into camp, and from then on it was merely a question of how hard did Lopez want to drive his boys.

The Frosh victories over Millsaps, Poplarville, and Springhill were victories of the first order. The Pups showed a willingness to put out, and a facility for learning Shaughnessy football as taught by Junior Lopez. Lopez has been most successful in his debut as a football tutor.

Among the Frosh stars, "Shorty" Gannon and Charlie Genard have gained the most recognition, and are being dubbed "the touchdown twins" already. In the line Captain Perry Booth, Falgout, Winters, Anacaroni, and McManus went well, and may make it tough for candidates for varsity positions next year.

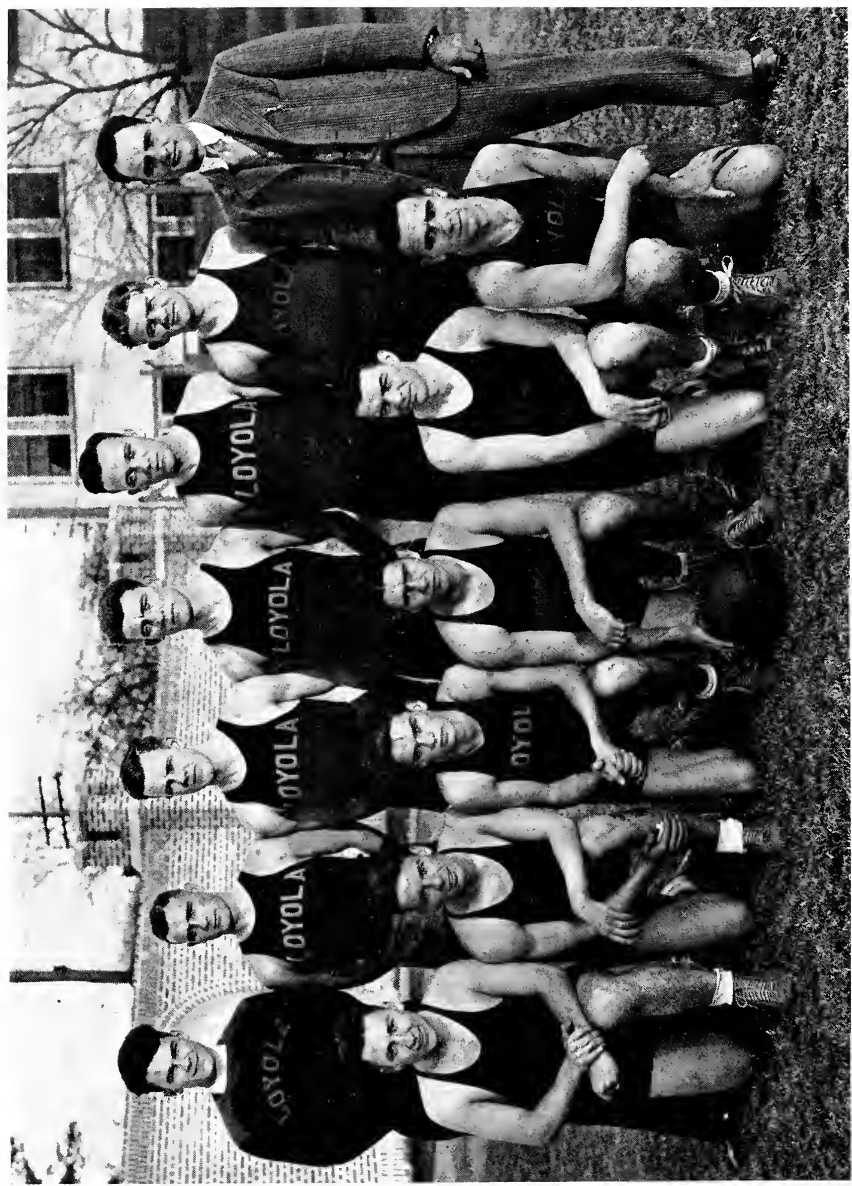

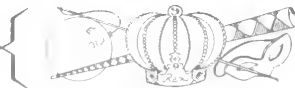

THE SEASON'S RECORD:

Loyola Frosh 7;	Copiah-Lincoln 37
Loyola Frosh 21;	Millsaps Frosh 0
Loyola Frosh 31;	Southwestern Aggies 0
Loyola Frosh 12;	Poplarville Aggies 6
Loyola Frosh 20;	Springhill Frosh 0

BASKETBALL

VARSIITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Basketball

By SEWALL OERTLING

Basketball was revived at Loyola in 1931 after having had a year's vacation, and while the Wolf teams were not any too successful, they did win a few games.

"Zeke" Bonura, former Loyola basketeer, and now professional baseball star with Cleveland, was in charge of the squad when practice was begun. Thirty men reported for the initial workout, and ten were finally selected. Included in this number were Captain "Bum" Heier, Alternate Captain Nolan Richards, Johnny Oulliber, Ray Mock, Sam Love, Sam Zelden, Bill Calhoun, Paul Pietri, Henry Knobloch, and Emmett Benit.

The varsity opened the season on January 9 against Southwestern of Lafayette. The game was close and hard fought and ended with Southwestern on top, score 25-20.

In the next encounter the Pack traveled to Natchitoches for a two-game series with Louisiana Normal. They lost the first, 67-37, and came back the second night to win, 36-32.

Louisiana College was next on the schedule in a two-game series played at Pineville. The Pack lost the first, 43-22, but came back the next night, with Bill Calhoun in the lineup and whipped the boys by a 36-32 score. From Pineville they moved over to Monroe and lost to the Brown Paper Mill five, 50-21.

Returning to New Orleans the Pack engaged the Mississippi College five, and lost again in a very close game, 37-33.

Louisiana College came down to Loyola for two games, taking the first by another close score, 50-47. The Pack came back in the second and decisively whipped the Wildcats by a 45-38 score.

Then came Louisiana Normal to get beat in a real thriller that was in doubt until the last second, the Pack coming out on the long end of a 28-26 score. Evidently this warmed up the boys from Natchitoches, and they took the second contest handily, winning by a 50-29 margin.

The last on the home schedule was Mississippi State Teachers College. In the first encounter the Pack ran up its biggest score of the season, winning by a score of 62-33. But the Loyolans loafed miserably in the second game, and Mississippi edged over to win by a 34-33 score. This made the eighth loss for the Pack.

The Pack made it ten losses by engaging Southwestern in two more games in Lafayette. This closed the season for the varsity.

FROSH SQUAD

Frosh Basketball

The Frosh played eight games, and won all but two of these. A galaxy of young stars composed this team, Buck Gallagher, Cheeky Blake, Buck Seeber, Perry Booth, Johnny Stumpf, Di Bartolo, Schmidt, Clunan, and Connor being those retained by Bonura as his Frosh team.

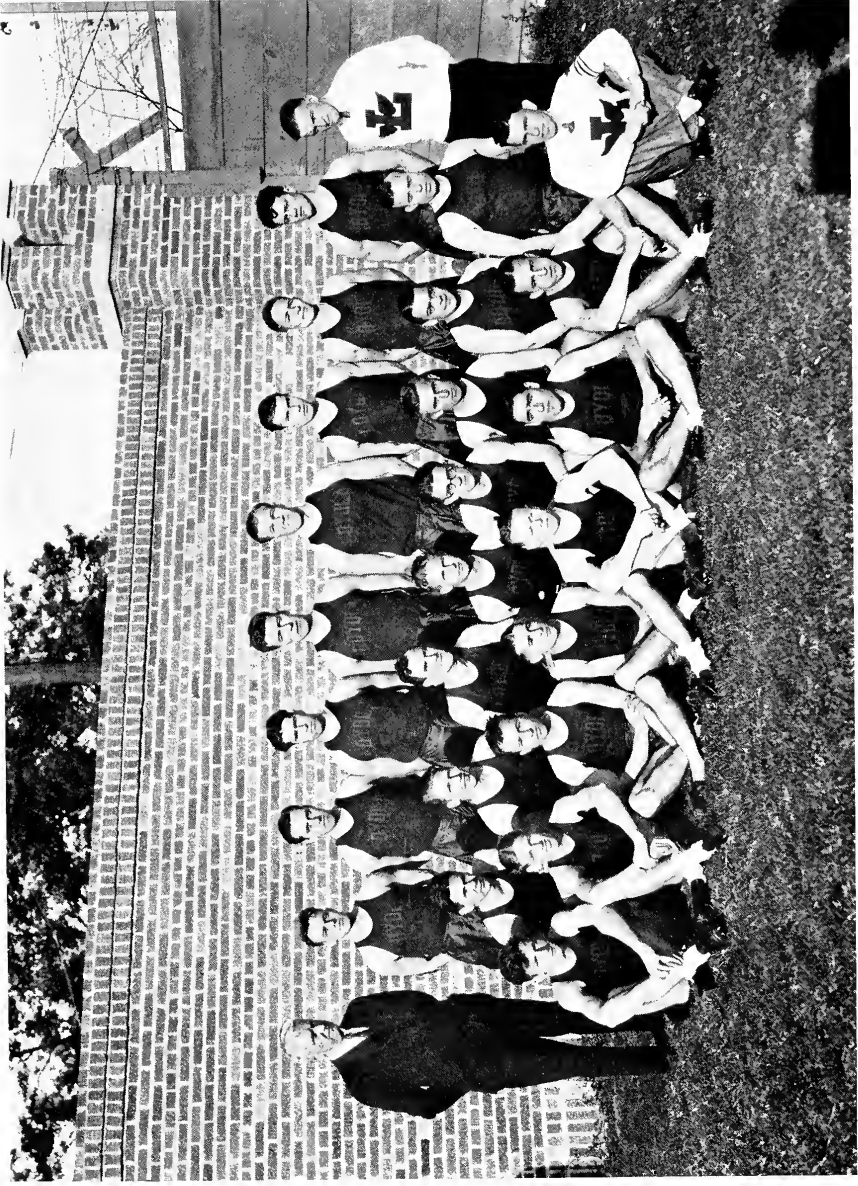

The Frosh beat the Naval Station, 39-11; Westside Athletic Club, 44-13; the Bay Panthers in Bay St. Louis, 44-16; St. Aloysius, 30-16; and the Y. M. H. A. of Picayune twice by large scores.

They lost their last two games against the Perkinson Aggies by scores of 31-16 and 32-28.

TRACK

TRACK TEAM

Track

By GEORGE LEPPERT

TOPPINO, Capt.

Led by Captain Francis Achee, and coached by "Tad" Gormley, the Maroon and Gold spike men of 1930 went places and did things on the cinder path, making an enviable record in track achievements.

The Maroon Mercury men started on their victorious campaign by stealing the show at the Southwestern Relay Carnival at Lafayette. In the varsity medley relay with Perrin Connor running the quarter, Toppino the 220, Hammond the half mile, and Hunter at the anchor mile, the Wolves won by 30 yards over Louisiana Normal, setting a record. Hammond, Toppino, Tetlow, and Connor then took the 440 sprint relay, winning easily. The freshman medley, composed of Schiro at the quarter, Ferber and Smith at the 220's, and Leppert at the anchor half, won this relay, being 50 yards ahead at the finish. Chacere won the high jump, Tetlow the broad jump, and Richards had the best throw in the javelin tossing event.

The Wolves returned to Lafayette shortly afterwards, and decisively defeated Southwestern in a dual meet. Toppino featured in the century dash. He was timed at 10 seconds, but after the race it was discovered that because of a misplaced starting line, he had run 105 yards in 10. This would put his time close to 9.5.

"Tad" Gormley next took his team to Alexandria for the S. I. A. A. District championship, where Loyola came out on top of the heap with an edge over their nearest opposition of 14 points. Southwestern was second. In this meet Toppino broke Dana Jenkins' long standing mark in the 220 by negotiating the furlong in 21 2-5 seconds.

Here the Wolves began the prep for the season's wind-up, the S. A. A. U. championships, and held "handicap" meets every Sunday morning to condition the men.

Bob Hammond showed the results of this training in the Junior Day A. A. U. championships by striding to an easy victory in the 880; time, 2 minutes, 3 1-5 seconds. Freshman Schiro galloped to clean-cut victories in the mile and two-mile runs. Freshman Joe Wheeler won in a walk in the mile walk. A maze of second, third, and fourth places gave Loyola a formidable score and enabled "Tad's" team to take down the Junior Day crown.

On Senior Day, Emmett Toppino tied up with Cy Leland, the pride of Texas Christian, and Leland got his chest aereons ahead of Top to win in 9.7 Leland also won the 220 in 21.7 against a stiff breeze.

John Hunter ran the race of his life to win by inches from his old rival Bailey of Louisiana Normal in the good time of 4.37. Freshman Leppert lost to Nelson Greer, National Junior 880

champ, in the 440 and was again nipped at the finish in the half by the aforesaid Greer. Joe Barrois' victory in the mile walk and a widely scattered array of second, third and fourth places, enabled Tad's men to capture the Senior championships by a margin of 16 points over the New Orleans Athletic Club. This club's team was composed almost entirely of Tulane athletes.

After the regular season was over, Emmett Toppino and "Tad" went to Chicago for the National Intercollegiate Championships. "Top" ran third in the race of the century, in which Wyckoff of Southern California set the official world's record of 9.4. George Simpson, formerly unofficial record holder, was second. Top was ahead of his old rival Leland, and also beat such stars as Tolan, Bracey, and Dyer.

CROSS COUNTRY

In order to prepare his distance and middle distance men, "Tad" started them on a campaign of cross country running. Hunter was made captain. Hunter, Schiro, Hammond, Leppert, Connor, A. and J. Everett scored all the team's points. The team won victories over a large field of competitors in the Gayoso A. C. 5-mile handicap, and were also winners of the Loyola Track and Field Club's 3-mile scratch event. The harriers wound up by winning the A. A. U. team championships at Baton Rouge.

CHACERE

PROSPECTS FOR 1931

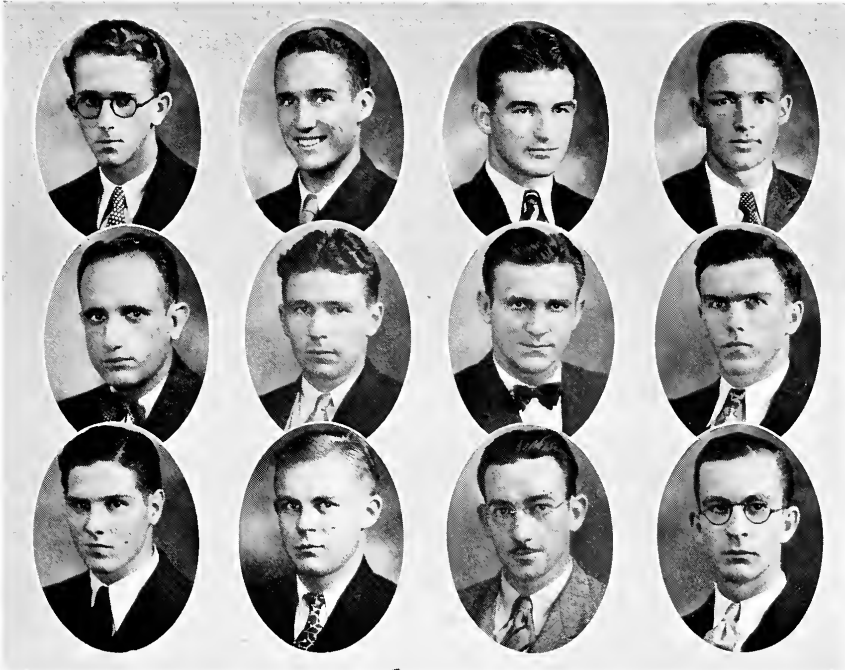

Prospects for this year are best in the history of track at Loyola. Toppino and Tetlow will handle the 100 and 220; Connor will run the 440; Leppert and Hammond will do the half; and Hammond will take the mile. Heier and Benit will perform in high and low hurdles. The weakness lies in the field. "Tad" has Chacere in the high jump and discus; Tetlow and Love in the broad jump; and Richards in the javelin. But as the old philosopher said, "We'll see what we'll see."

NOTE: This society, probably the first of its kind in America, was organized under the direction of Mr. R. Jerome Mullin, S.J., in September, 1930, with a handful of enthusiastic students who realized the value of this kind of Catholic lay activity.

Students deliver lectures illustrated by colored slides. These lectures are taken directly from the French versions and last usually for one hour. Religious, doctrinal, and historical subjects are generally the topics for such discussions.

Thus far, the members of the bureau have spoken in every section of the city, and parts suburban to the city. By the end of the school year, fifty such lectures will have been delivered by the bureau to the congregations, parishes, churches, and organizations requesting them. The lectures are offered gratuitously.

VARSITY DEBATING

AINSWORTH

HISTORY

Intercollegiate debate at Loyola University has grown from an humble beginning in 1929 when debating was revived here, and when but two debates were held during the season, to a full-fledged activity in 1931 when colleges and universities from the length and breadth of these United States are being met by Loyola of the South.

The faculty of the university have long believed that debating was as important to the scholastic life of the college student, as was football or baseball or any other major sport to his physical life. But there seemed always to be a lack of interest in the forensic field.

This interest was stimulated when in 1929 a communication was received from Ripon College of Ripon, Wisconsin, requesting a forensic encounter on the subject "Resolved: That the system of trial by jury should be abolished." Trials were held and Harold Rouchell and Carl Buchmann were selected to represent Loyola. They met the team from Ripon upholding the affirmative side of the case and won a decision of the judges. Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee, Oklahoma, was next on the list of opponents, and were beaten by Loyola. This closed the 1929 season.

When the next debate season rolled around the faculty set about to secure more and better debates for Loyola. The usual trials were held and Felicien Lozes, John Oulliber, and Robert A. Ainsworth were selected to represent Loyola in 1930. In the first debate of the year Felicien Lozes and John Oulliber beat a crack team from Baylor, defending the negative of the question, "Resolved: That the nations should adopt a plan for complete disarmament." The second debate was held against Loyola of Chicago, with Felicien Lozes and Robert Ainsworth defending the negative of the same proposition. Chicago won this contest by a 2-1 decision.

Next came the University of Wyoming to beat Loyola on the same question. Felicien Lozes and John Oulliber defended the negative, and lost another 2-1 decision.

The first road trip made by a Loyola team was made at this point by Felicien Lozes and Robert Ainsworth, who traveled all the way to Oklahoma University at Norman, Oklahoma, near Oklahoma City. Again defending the negative, the gentlemen from Loyola were beaten. The next day Lozes and Ainsworth traveled over to Shawnee, Oklahoma, and lost to the Oklahoma Baptist University by a 2-1 decision. Loyola again had the negative of the disarmament question.

And so, while not successful in winning decisions in the first real active year of debate, the Loyola team was gaining much needed experience, and was making the beginning necessary to establish debating on a strong foundation.

That a strong foundation was being laid for 1931 may be seen readily from the splendid results achieved on the forensic fields of battle this year.

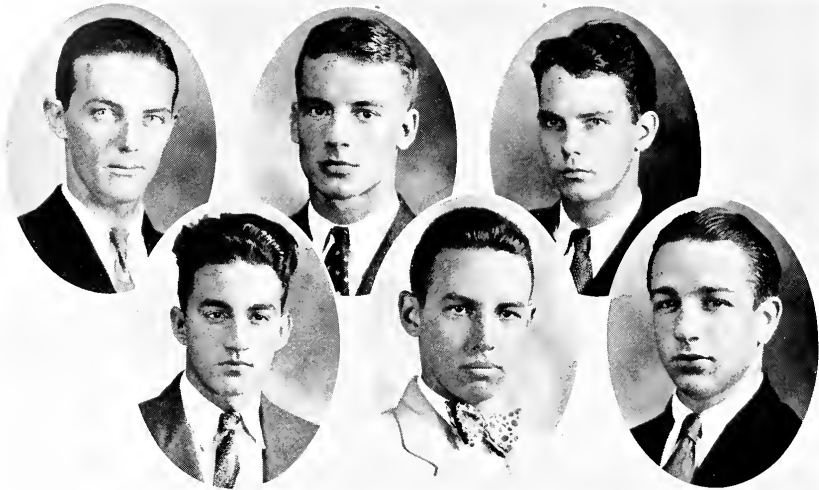

Loyola engaged in a total of twelve debates this season, and won seven, while four were lost, and one contest was a no-decision debate. There is no school in the South with a more enviable record.

Two teams were selected in debate trials to represent the University. Felicien Lozes and Robert Ainsworth, members of the 1930 team, composed the first ranking squad. Leo C. Zinser and George Leppert were second ranking.

The season's results in brief, all on the subject, "Resolved, That the Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade," are:

Date	Opponent	Place	Team	Side	Decision
Feb. 18	Louisiana State	Baton Rouge	Lozes-Zinser	Negative	Won, 2-1
Feb. 23	Springhill	New Orleans	Lozes-Ainsworth	Affirmative	Lost, 2-1
Feb. 28	Missouri	New Orleans	Zinser-Leppert	Affirmative	Lost, 2-1
Mar. 6	Louisiana State	New Orleans	Lozes-Ainsworth	Affirmative	Won, 3-0
Apr. 6	Birmingham-Southern	New Orleans	Zinser-Leppert	Negative	Won, 2-1
Apr. 7	Loyola of Chicago	Chicago	Lozes-Ainsworth	Affirmative	No Decision
Apr. 8	St. Louis U.	St. Louis	Lozes-Ainsworth	Affirmative	Lost, 2-1
Apr. 9	Missouri	Moberly, Mo.	Lozes-Ainsworth	Negative	Won, 42-0
Apr. 13	Florida	New Orleans	Zinser-Leppert	Negative	Won, 2-1
Apr. 13	Texas Christian	Ft. Worth, Tex.	Lozes-Ainsworth	Negative	Won, 2-1
Apr. 14	Baylor	Waco, Tex.	Lozes-Ainsworth	Negative	Lost, 3-0
Apr. 15	Tennessee	New Orleans	Lozes-Ainsworth	Negative	Won, 3-0

The varsity debaters are deeply grateful to their present coach Father Hartz for the encouragement and constructive criticism which they have received during the 1931 season; to Father Ruggeri, who is responsible for the magnificent schedule of debates for this year. They pay tribute to the memory of the late Father Andre de Monsabert who kept up the interest of debating at Loyola, and worked tirelessly to the moment of his death in order that the men of Loyola might be recognized throughout the world as gentlemen of character, of honesty, of true faith in God from whence come all good gifts.

ONE of the old philosophers is credited with having said, "After all we do those things which we really want to do."

An analysis of our conduct from day to day really proves the correctness of this philosophy. Our accomplishments, yours and mine, are the direct result of a determination to accomplish.

Strange to relate, many of the world's greatest accomplishments are the outgrowth of dreams — sometimes just day dreams. Dreams only become realities when the dreamer has the determination to see them through.

The idea that you would attend Dental College and become a member of a noble profession was, at one time, more or less a dream. Remember? You possessed the determination to make that dream a reality.

And peculiar as it might seem, all of the time that you have been accomplishing your object, you have been dreaming of other things — among them a successful professional career.

Your ability to make this dream a reality again depends upon your determination; however, you must not handicap yourself by an uncomplimentary introduction to your patients. Remember —

"A dentist is accepted by his patients as being as modern as his surroundings indicate."

Ritter's 40 years of experience is yours for the asking.

OF COURSE

...you'll want your own x-ray unit

FREQUENT use of the x-ray is one of the ways by which the public is learning to distinguish the progressive dentist. More and more the leaders in the profession are installing their own x-ray units.

They find that making their own radiographs enables them to render better service, to make their time more profitable. They soon become expert in interpretation. And this ownership of an x-ray unit proves to be not an expense, but an investment from which they get a steady yield.

The Victor CDX Dental X-ray Unit has been a great factor in creating this vogue for individual ownership. The Victor CDX hangs suspended from the wall. It is electrically safe. Both transformer and tube, insulated in oil, are enclosed in the tube head. There is no high tension current exposed anywhere. You and your patient can touch the CDX anywhere while it is in operation. There is no danger of shock.

Let us send you the facts drawn from the experience of successful practitioners about this modern unit. It makes radiography almost as simple as photography. As you start out, you cannot afford to be without this important tool of your profession. Ask us for details of monthly payment plan.

Adios

At last—he has come to the end of the long, long trail. The old horse which has been pushed, whipped, and driven, over hill and dale, up high mountains and down rough roads, is at last pulled up. He is allowed to go to the water trough to refresh himself, his burdensome harness is removed from his tired back and he goes into the barn to partake of a generous supply of oats—and finally his tired and jangled nerves are rested. He drops off into a sleep of peace, which is God's compensation for hard work. His labor is done.

You'd almost feel sorry for your humble editor if he compared himself to the horse just described. But at times he felt that he was driven in almost the self-same way—and now—he has come to rest. His career as an annualist is over. His second Loyola Wolf is done. He rests. Tired and jangled nerves are soothed. Peace, both of body and of mind are his. He reclines at ease.

However, the editor's work is far from distasteful. He has the company and association of the cream of the student body. He has their good will and oftentimes their voluntary assistance. For all of which the editor is grateful. He loves the spirit of comradeship, of loyalty, of devotion, which is engendered in his staff.

Most of all the editor receives the satisfaction of knowing that he has done something in a real, substantial way to make Loyola a more representative university, a more efficient school of learning, a credit to the faculty who govern it, and a tribute to the students who make it up. It is his fond wish, as well as that of all students here that some day Loyola will be the peer of all the Southern colleges.

Now is the last time we shall ever be allowed to sign our name as "editor." And so we must take this opportunity to offer our thanks to the faculty and students for such generous co-operation; to the Wolf Staff as a body for their untiring energy; to Hamil Cupero for photographic work; to Earl Johnson for editorial assistance; to Arthur Charbonnet for research effort; to Carl Buchmann for generous cooperation; to Skelly Wright for many favors; to the Maroon for the splendid publicity the yearbook has received; to Roy Hickman, almost a second editor of the Wolf, a representative of the Alabama Engraving Company; to W. A. Benson for suggestions and encouragements; to J. J. Varenholt for patience in the photography; to Father Ruggeri for the freedom of management allowed us; to our Duchess, without whose inspiration we could not have had the strength to bring this 1931 publication to a happy conclusion.
